HumasUPNVJ - Tuesday, January 21 2020, the UPN Veterans Jakarta Faculty of Medicine (FK UPNVJ) again inaugurated 76 new doctors at the 61st Doctor's Inauguration and Oath Ceremony in 2020 at the Menara 165 building, South Jakarta.

UPN Veteran Jakarta Chancellor Erna Hernawati, in her remarks said that the UPNVJ medical faculty has so far graduated 2,613 doctors. The Chancellor also gave his appreciation because the UPNVJ medical faculty had succeeded in achieving the graduation rate for first takers and the highest OSCE score.

"Thank you and highest appreciation to the Dean and all staff for successfully achieving a passing rate for first takers of 79.26%, the highest national OSCE score of 35.17 by dr. Antania Isyatira Kartika" said the chancellor.

The Chancellor also added that in facing the current era of digitalization, serious efforts are needed. The key is the 10 skills needed by the industry today, including: creative, innovative, service orientation. He also hopes that graduates can continue to maintain a good name, uphold the name of UPNVJ and prove to be professional doctors, have integrity, uphold professional ethics, become doctors who are not only material-oriented but service-oriented, and become doctors who show a martial identity. Country and love for the motherland.

Not only that, the dean of the UPNVJ medical faculty, Prijo Sidipratomo, also said, " Thank you to all the parents who have provided material support and prayers. And trust us to teach your children, ladies and gentlemen. Thank you to all graduates and I hope that you will never give up and never give up and always have good dreams for this country. We hope to continue to produce intelligent generations for the nation. Hopefully your presence as doctors in society can bring blessings and benefits to our beloved nation and country, "he explained.

The inauguration and Oath of Doctor class of 61 also produced the best graduates achieved by dr. Adam Satria Rakatama with a Grade Point Average of 3.77. As a representative of new doctors as well as the best graduate from the UPNVJ Faculty of Medicine batch 61, dr. Adam recounted some of the ups and downs in the learning process that he and his friends had been going through for about six years. Adam also expressed his gratitude for all the support he received during his education period both from family, friends and the entire UPNVJ medical faculty academic community.

There are several messages that were also given by dr. Adam for his colleagues " in front of society and the world are waiting for the results of our work and waiting for our best dedication. After this, there is an internship program for Indonesian doctors that we have to do together. Let's keep the noble traditions of this country, let's keep the good name of the alma mater in carrying out every activity and never forget to give our best smile. Provide services from our best competence and don't forget to insert a prayer for the recovery of our patients later.
