Optimizing Distance Lectures, UPN Veteran Jakarta Provides G Suite Facilitation for Students and Lecturers.

Friday, 20 March 2020 11:59 WIB

HumasUPNVJ - As an effort to fully support the remote lecture system that is currently running to anticipate the increasingly massive spread of the Covid-19 virus, starting today, Friday (20/03/20) UPN Veteran Jakarta is providing online G Suite (Google Suite) facilities to all lecturers and students.

Quoted from Tribunjogja.com G Suite is a suite of cloud-based services that can provide companies or schools with new ways to work together online. Its use is not only using email and chat, but also through video conferencing, social media, real-time document collaboration, and others with unlimited capacity.

In this case the leadership cooperates with the UPT. ICT UPN Veteran Jakarta today began announcing the process of requesting an account.

"Yes, that's right, we will make all students and lecturers G Suite accounts to support the face-to-face system in remote lectures that are currently running," said Sigit Pradana, Head of UPT.TIK UPNVJ.

Lecturers and students will enjoy this online facility free of charge to support face-to-face lectures.

For those of you who don't know what G Suite is, let's look at a brief explanation and its advantages:

Google suite is a service created by Google that prioritizes mobility and collaboration to improve IT needs in the current millennial era. Google suite is a cloud-based service that allows anyone to collaborate on documents, chat, video conferencing easily and in real time. Everything can be done easily anytime and anywhere. This service also allows you to stay productive in all types of work without worrying about the space capacity on your device.

The advantage

G Suite, formerly known as Google Apps for Work, is the latest product from Google that is used to help manage businesses and businesses. The services contained in Google Apps for Work are very complete. Broadly speaking, some of the functions or benefits that can be obtained from Google Apps For Work include managing and sharing documents online, calendars, online data storage, video conferencing, etc.

G Suite adds additional advanced features that make it superior to other email hosting, such as you can store large school or company data given the rapid development of information and communication technology so that more data is in the form of videos or photos of 30GB, free of spam production. helps you to filter/filter spam emails so you won't be disturbed, support is 24/7, you can read and draft messages when you are not connected to the internet via mobile in your IOS or Android and messages will be sent when you are online. By using G Suite.

G Suite will certainly give you reliable and comfortable access anywhere and anytime. To develop your communication process, it is very important to have this G Suite because you will enjoy many advantages for various communication processes and so on.

Lecturers and students who don't have a G Suite account can contact UPT.TIK according to their respective faculties:

a. Lecturers who don't have a gmail account @upnvj.ac.id please immediately contact Farhan Abianto 085717628716 and Andika Wardana 085735188875 . The deadline for requests is Sunday, March 22, 2020.

b. For students who don't have a gmail account @upnvj.ac.id, you can contact the number below:
Faculty of Economics and Business : Andika Wardana 085735188875

Faculty of Social and Political Sciences: Farhan Abianto 085717628716

Faculty of Medicine: Imam Rifky 081386756096

Faculty of Computer Science: Farhan Abianto 085717628716

Faculty of Law : Windi 088212326731

Faculty of Engineering: Sigit Pradana 082110896978

Faculty of Health Sciences: Windi 088212326731

The deadline for requests is Friday, March 27, 2020 .