HumasUPNVJ - After implementing the distance lecture system and distributing free handsanitizers in the campus environment, still in an effort to prevent the spread of the corona virus (Covid-19), UPN Veteran Jakarta has carried out preventive follow-up by spraying disinfectants in the UPN Veteran Jakarta Pondok Labu and Limo campus environment.

Based on the information submitted by the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, dr. Ria Maria Theresa, this activity is a step in anticipation and our responsibility to prevent the spread of the Covid-19 virus which is getting more massive at this time. He also said that this spraying would be carried out periodically and had been started from Friday (20/03/20).

"This is a good thing that has been done by the leadership as a form of concern and moral responsibility for UPNVJ to anticipate the spread of the Covid 19 virus. UPNVJ officers have disinfected all campus environments and this will be done every 3 days," said dr. Ria.

As of today, Monday (23/03/20) the campus environment is still being sprayed, starting from the classrooms, labs, workspaces to other public infrastructure facilities.

With the efforts made by campus leaders, it is hoped that they can prevent the spread of the Covid-19 virus and are encouraged for students and employees to do the same in their respective homes, because prevention and breaking the chain of the spread of this virus is our shared responsibility.
