

UPNVJ Monitors Online Student Presence Data Collection

Monday, 30 March 2020 11:46 WIB

HumasUPNVJ - One of the efforts of the Jakarta Veterans National Development University (UPNVJ) as the State Defense Campus in preventing the transmission of Covid-19 (Corona Virus), which is becoming a big problem in our country, is to collect data on the whereabouts of students online. This student data collection was carried out so that UPNVJ could find out where the students are currently, especially for those who are currently away from their families so that they can continue to be monitored to meet their basic needs and health.

This student data collection can be accessed via <https://s.id/positionmhsupnvj> (<https://s.id/posisimhsupnvj>). As of now (10:51 WIB) there are 2,201 students who have collected data and will be monitored every day for about a month. It is hoped that this student data collection will be useful for #belanegara friends who really need it and hopefully it will be an effective way to find out where UPNVJ students are in the midst of a pandemic like this. For this reason, synergy between campuses and students is needed.

In addition, information related to Distance Learning (PJJ), information about lectures and other information can be continuously accessed on all UPNVJ social media,
