HumasUPNVJ - In closing the PROSPEKTIV 2020 program, UPN Veteran Jakarta presents Sydney Azzahra, a beautiful student who is inspiring and also has various achievements both national and international.

Sydney Azzahra, who is usually called Sydney, is a student at UPN Veterans Jakarta, Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, majoring in Communication Studies.

With a wealth of experience and various achievements, Sydney had the opportunity to become the final speaker in closing the series of PROSPEKTIV 2020 activities. On this occasion, Sydney discussed the Virtual campaign, on Saturday (12/12/20).

It should be noted, Sydney with her achievements has won the Award as one of the Best Writers at Kompasiana.com for the June 2020 Period, Top 10 Platinum Skills National Writing Festival, Top 9 ASEAN Level Public Speaking Competition at Universiti Sains Malaysia, Runner Up "UHAMKA FIKES English Speech Contest Festivals".

In front of 1,780 online participants, armed with the experience and achievements he had achieved, Sydney shared them with PROSPEKTIV 2020 participants who were new students from UPN Veteran Jakarta, UPN Veteran East Java, UPN Veteran Yogyakarta, University of Palangkaraya and students at Nusa Cendana University.

Sydney recounted the beginning of her experience where previously she was someone who lacked confidence but with her desire to increase her knowledge about public speaking and learn from the events she participated in.

“At first I felt unprepared for the challenge that was in front of my eyes, but the opportunity had to be taken even if I was ready or not ready”

With that in mind, Sydney started her various experiences which have led her to be able to provide communication education both in person and virtually, which she is currently carrying out in the midst of a pandemic. Sydney proves by bravely fighting the inner fear anything is possible.

With this, it is hoped that Sydney can become a student who inspires her colleagues to make achievements and eliminates all doubts to start the best. At a later time.

This is in accordance with the goals and targets desired by UPNVJ in the PROSPEKTIV 2020 program. In the closing series of PROSPEKTIV 2020, one of the UPN Veterans Jakarta students, Muhammad Hafiz expressed his gratitude to all the teams involved in PROSPEKTIV 2020. Hafiz said that this implementation also had many benefits. provisions for him and his colleagues to start lectures and provide relevant insights to the industrial world.

“There are many benefits and very inspiring provisions from this activity. I hope that the next workshop activities will always provide relevant material because that is what my friends and I need,” said Hafiz.

In closing, UPNVJ Chancellor Erna Hernawati expressed her gratitude to all the committee involved in PROSPEKTIV 2020 for their cooperation and escort so that the PROSPEKTIV 2020 event could run until the end.

The Chancellor also said that PROSPEKTIV 2020 was a program created as a result of UPNVJ academics' observations of high unemployment rates. It is hoped that relevant training in this program can open minds and shape the character of students who are ready to compete in the industrial world.

"Students that I am proud of you can benefit from the provision you provide. This activity, which was made as a result of our observations, has the main objective of increasing quality graduates who are compatible with the competencies needed in the industrial era. Because the most important thing is not only the GPA score but outside the scientific field to have the desired skills in the coming year," explained the chancellor.

"Of course we will continue to guard so that you become graduates who are ready, but the intention and willingness to become qualified is determined by yourself. Good luck, make the determination of the best and qualified graduates a target to achieve your own future," he concluded.
