As a form of provision for new students to foster a sense of kinship, a sense of love for the Communication Sciences major, and to invite students to think critically, all members of the Communications Student Association form an activity program for new students, namely "Communication Dialogue". Tuesday - Friday, 25 -28 October 2016. In this activity new students formed several groups and were given materials to instill student personality.

With this activity program, it is hoped that it can strengthen the sense of kinship among fellow students and equip new students to face future lectures. This event is an annual routine activity held for new students of
