

Chancellor's Message for New Students: Make the Most of Your Time on Campus

Tuesday, 10 August 2021 17:59 WIB

HumasUPNVJ - Chancellor of the Jakarta Veterans National Development University (UPNVJ) Dr. Erna Hernawati, Ak, CPMA, CA, CGOP asked new students to take advantage of their short time on campus to collect track records, competencies, and abilities that could be utilized after graduation.

"You can say that the challenges for new students are very tough. The changes in the era of the industrial revolution 4.0 alone are quite difficult, plus the Covid-19 pandemic has pushed for more revolutionary changes," said Erna in Jakarta, Tuesday (10/8/2021).

Erna said that studying at university was a short time. Students must be able to take advantage of this short time to improve competence and abilities as well as add to their track record through various sources independently.

What's more, UPNVJ's new students were born from a rigorous selection process, so you can be sure they have intelligence and abilities above average. These abilities and intelligence must be honed while studying at UPNVJ.

"Track records, competencies, and abilities will make students ready to compete after graduation. After graduation, it is not only the cumulative grade point that is seen, but also what students have done while studying," he said.

Introduction to New Student Campus Life (PKKMB) 2021 UPNVJ will start Wednesday (11/8/2021). Erna said the committee had designed the event to be held online in an interesting way so that students would not get bored.

"All materials and events are designed for new students. I hope new students can enjoy it. The challenge of PKKMB online is that lying down at home is better, but the committee has designed interesting material with sources that are not boring," he said.
