HumasUPNVJ - The era of openness and unlimited information makes young people more and more forget about the existence of past struggles. Not a few young people ignore the values that have been embedded in the youth oath which at that time were not taught but were able to make this nation unite. This condition can be seen from the irrelevance of these values in various aspects of life. A real example can be seen recently that there have been many disintegrations which have caused a lot of alarming riots, especially among students and students, the use of Indonesian is increasingly marginalized while Indonesian is the mother tongue and as a National Identity. Seeing the current conditions, the University Compulsory Subject Center (MKWU) UPN Veterans Jakarta is holding a webinar with the theme "Reflection and Action on the Youth Pledge" as well as to commemorate the 93rd Youth Pledge Day October 28, 2021.

The purpose of this webinar activity was held with the aim of creating a quality nation, inviting the entire academic community to remember the services of the heroes, increasing unity and oneness, being able to reflect on the values of the Youth Pledge, being able to increase creativity and innovation. This activity presented Yudi Latif, P.Hd and Dr. Siti Isnaniah, S.Pd, M,Pd as a resource person.

The Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, Anter Venus as the Keynote Speaker gave opening remarks, "UPNVJ is a State Defense Campus. Whatever important events or moments in the life of this nation are UPNVJ's efforts to reflect, to take many lessons. Including the Youth Pledge event this time, we want to explore, reflect on and take lessons from the Youth Pledge event," he said.

"There are three aspects in this youth reflection, homeland, nationality and language aspects," concluded Venus.

The activity was followed by a discussion session by resource persons and participants.
