Public RelationsUPNVJ - Indonesia has large demographic potential, which provides extraordinary opportunities in the entrepreneurial sector. In an effort to achieve the vision of a Golden Indonesia 2045, the development of young entrepreneurs is a key factor. Youth are expected to be able to encourage economic growth and innovation through entrepreneurship. In the midst of global competition and rapid technological change, fostering an entrepreneurial spirit among youth is becoming increasingly important.

Young entrepreneurs not only create jobs for themselves, but also for others, thereby helping to reduce unemployment and improve community welfare. This becomes very relevant in the context of Indonesia which has a large number of young people. They are valuable assets that can spur national economic development through innovation and creativity in entrepreneurship.

The Association of Young Indonesian Entrepreneurs at UPN "Veteran" Jakarta College (HIPMI PT UPNVJ) sees the need for activities that can provide insight and inspiration to young people, especially students, to start and develop businesses. In line with this, HIPMI PT UPNVJ held a public lecture with the theme: "Achieve Really: Growing Entrepreneurial Spirit Towards a Golden Indonesia 2045", at the UPNVJ Bhinneka Tunggal Ika Auditorium. "Apart from that, this event also aims to build strong networks and collaboration among young entrepreneurs, academics and other stakeholders, which will later help advance Indonesia towards the vision of a Golden Indonesia 2045," he said in his speech.

HIPMI UPNVJ presented three resource persons, namely Rangga Derana Niode, Dimas Ramadhan Pangestu and Muhammad Assad. These three speakers have experience in the field of entrepreneurship to share experiences, challenges and success strategies.
